Press Release

P. JOSEPH LEHMAN, Inc., Consulting Engineers celebrates grand opening of satellite office in Mount Joy, PA.

Ribbon cutting ceremonies held to welcome the firm hired to design the replacement of the historic Risser's Mill Covered Bridge in Mount Joy Township.

Mount Joy, Lancaster County. Local officials and community members met on Thursday, August 9th to officially cut the ribbon to welcome P. Joseph Lehman, Inc., Consulting Engineers to Mount Joy, Lancaster County. The Hollidaysburg, PA firm was hired by the Lancaster County Commissioners to perform the design for the rebuilding of the Risser's Mill Covered Bridge which was the victim of arson. In addition, Lehman Engineers will be providing design for a new, modern bridge structure at the site. Lehman Engineers has provided design for some fourteen (14) historic covered bridge projects throughout the Commonwealth. In addition, they provide transportation design for more conventional bridges and roadway projects for the Pennsylvania Department of Transportation, the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, and local municipalities.

Mount Joy Community members, state legislators, and members of The Theodore Burr Covered Bridge Society were in attendance. Ceremonies were held at Bube's Brewery, directly across from Lehman Engineer's new office in Mount Joy. (See photo attached, compliments of the Mount Joy Chamber of Commerce)
